HARDING PAYS TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON

PUT GAG ON U. S. ENVOYS IN EUROPE?

Lawrence Says Watson Speech May Have That Effect.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1922, by The Argus.)
Washington, D. C., June 9.—It's all wind that blows no good—and already enough has happened to indicate that one of the unexpected effects of the speech of Senator James Watson, Republican, of Indiana, criticizing European diplomats for speaking making on the tariff question will be to muzzle American diplomats abroad.
For a long time the present administration has been embarrassed by the speech making proclivities of some of the American ambassadors. The notable George Harvey at London has with difficulty suppressed his desires for expression. Significant therefore is the constant emphasis by high officials of the American government that in making the foreign diplomats to refrain from discussing the tariff and other domestic questions, the United States is merely asking that other governments observe the same rules and instructions as are in effect on this subject in the American code for ambassadors and ministers.

Speeches Forbidden.

Careful examination of the printed code reveals the fact that all speeches by American diplomatic officers are absolutely forbidden except on extraordinary festive occasions, and the inference is that the American diplomats will even then confine their remarks to comments on the beauties of nature and the wonderful opportunities nations have nowadays to further the brotherhood of man.

It's difficult to lecture an ambassador like George Harvey, whose political influence is multiplex and whose ability to express himself is attested by a long career as a journalist and editor—a master of after dinner oratory and satire. But it is important to note that even Senator Watson used in his speech an illustration based on the hypothesis that Colonel Harvey might make sundry remarks on British internal conditions.

Americans Offend, Too.

The truth is the American diplomats in the past have offended almost as much as European diplomats here and what we are witnessing in fact is a return to pre-war normal in diplomatic etiquette. The war period broke down all rules. Ambassadors discussed publicly questions international and external without submitting copies of their remarks to the department of state for approval. Ambassadors from foreign lands who have followed in the wake of the war have felt the same freedom to express themselves on past war questions.

Senator Watson's speech and Secretary Hughes' conversations with foreign diplomats following immediately after a private conference between the secretary of state and Mr. Watson may bring about a return to pre-war customs. In the present dispute emphasis is laid on the tariff and an internal question purely domestic in the sense that a bill now is pending before an American legislative body. Even if it has international phases officials feel that its status is for the moment domestic and speeches made by foreign diplomats

GET MADELYNNE JURY.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 9.—The jury for the second trial of Madeleine O'Brien was completed today. It is composed of seven women and five men.

KID WEDGE TO REVEAL HIS LIFE STORY ON SCREEN

Tucson, Ariz., June 9.—After playing every part in life's cast, from lumberjack and prizefighter to the graduate school of a great college, Fred ("Kid") Wedge, who attracted nationwide attention when he bobbed his way to Harvard, plans to leave Cambridge to enter the movies in his own production illustrating his life story.
"It's only a means to an end with me," he said. "I have not lost the old ambition. I expect to take Mrs. Wedge and the boy to Cambridge this fall and I need the money."
"Some of the moving picture producers have informed me that my story has an educational value. They say it brings out the fact that no matter how poor and illiterate a man may be or regardless of the fact that he may have grown to manhood before he could read and write, he need not remain without an education."

ARREST AGENT OF BISCHOFF IN WAUKEGAN

John Brazonski Confesses $100,000 Swindle.

Elgin, Ill., June 9.—Charged with swindling foreign-born citizens of the Fox River Valley out of between $60,000 and $100,000, John Brazonski was brought here today from Waukegan, where he was arrested last night on warrants sworn out by two of his more than one hundred alleged victims.

In a confession to the constables who arrested Brazonski quoted him as making he was said to have admitted that he obtained sums ranging from $50 to $2,000 from various persons, mostly Lithuanians, but insisted that he had acted honestly in his transactions and that he thought the investments he recommended were good.

Echo of "Ponzi" Case.
The money, he was quoted as saying, was turned over to the firm of L. Harrington and Bischoff, in Chicago. Bischoff recently was charged with swindling foreign-born citizens out of sums said to total more than a million dollars. When Bischoff was arrested, Harrington, formerly his partner, but at that time in business for himself, fled from Chicago, leaving liabilities totaling more than half a million dollars.

Harrington and Bischoff, according to government and state officials, merely gave personal notes for the money given them to invest, occasionally paying back a small part of it to avoid complaints from the customers.

Brazonski is believed to have been one of their agents.

DAUGHERTY IS FLYED AGAIN

Representative Larsen, Georgia, Charges Phillips' Arrest Was Attempt to Shield Official.

Washington, June 9.—Representative Larsen, Democrat, Georgia, in the house today characterized the arrest of J. L. Phillips, Republican state chairman of Georgia, as an attempt "by the attorney-general to shield himself from public criticism." He added that he did not believe the attorney-general contemplated further prosecution.

DATA GIVEN UP BY CHADBOURNE

Steel Merger Lawyer Purges Self of Contempt Charge, Undermyer Announces.

New York, June 9.—Thomas L. Chadbourne, lawyer who negotiated in the Midvale-Inland-Republic Steel merger, has purged himself of the contempt charge declared against him yesterday by the Lockwood legislative committee when he refused to turn over data on four other steel companies originally contemplating entrance into the combination, Samuel Undermyer, committee chairman, announced today.

Mr. Chadbourne turned over the desired data.

HOUSE GETS REPORTS OF FORD OFFER

Majority Recommends Acceptance of Shoals Bid.

Washington, June 9.—Three separate reports setting forth recommendations for action by congress with respect to private development of the government's $106,000,000 power and nitrate project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., were made to the house today by members of the military committee.

The task of making a final decision is admitted in each of the reports to be the duty of the full membership of the house at an early date, but recommendations to that end, submitted after four months of continuous consideration by the committee, differ in important respects as they are presented in the documents.

Acting Chairman McKenzie of Illinois, who drafted the majority report, declares that at the outset the Ford proposal was the only one found "worthy of serious consideration," and asks its acceptance by the house, provided, however, that the Gorgas steam plant is not included among the projects to be disposed of at Muscle Shoals.

Oppose Gorgas Elimination.

Concurrence in the majority report, except for the reference made with respect to the Gorgas plant, is voiced in one of the minority opinions presented by Representative Wright, Democrat, of Georgia, and supported by Representative James, Republican, Michigan, and the remaining Democratic members. They ask full compliance by the house with all provisions of the Ford proposal, including the Gorgas property, and point out the belief that if congress eliminates the Gorgas unit it would defeat the Ford offer.

In the third report, submitted by Representative Parker, Republican, New Jersey, and signed by Representative Frothingham, Republican, Massachusetts, the opinion is adverse to the acceptance of Mr. Ford's offer unless it is modified in other sections than that dealing with Gorgas. In the event Mr. Ford declined to agree to the modification proposed, the signers would have the secretary of war lease the dams and nitrate plants "on such terms as will secure the completion of the dams" and would authorize him "to settle the fair value of the Gorgas plant and convey the same to the Alabama Power company."

Up to Congress.

After the presentation of documents supplied the committee during its deliberations by Secretary Weeks and other war department officers, Mr. McKenzie, in the majority report says:
"A glance at the figures set forth will disclose the fact that up to date the government has expended upon this colossal undertaking something over $106,000,000, approximately $5,000,000 of which was expended for the Gorgas steam plant and transmission line."

He then asked what congress can do to solve the problem, develop the project for the national good and stop the tremendous losses to the government caused by the idleness and the deterioration of the properties, adding that the courses open to congress are:

Courses Open.

"1. Authorize the necessary appropriations for the completion of the dam or dams; other facilities necessary to enable the operation of the plants in accordance with section 124, of the national defense act, meaning 'government ownership and operation.'"

"2. Authorize the necessary appropriations to complete the project, retaining the title and amending the law in such manner as to (Continued on Page Sixteen.)

ASK BARON KATO TO BE PREMIER

Admiral Asks Time to Consider Whether He Will Undertake Formation of Cabinet.

Tokyo, June 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Admiral Baron Kato today was offered the premiership of Japan. He asked time to consider whether he would undertake to form a cabinet to succeed that of Premier Takahashi, which resigned Tuesday. Observers here see in the offer made by the elder statesman, further assurance of the government's determination to carry out wholeheartedly the engagements made at the Washington arms conference.

Baron Kato, as head of the Japanese delegation at Washington, helped formulate the policies that were accepted by his government for reduction of armaments and for removing possible causes of international misunderstandings in the Far East.

'To Be or Not to Be'; Maine Voters Must Pick Bachelor Or Benedick as Legislator

BY EDMUND HART

Consolidated Press Correspondent. (Copyright, 1922, by The Argus.)

Augusta, Maine, June 9.—Senator Frederick Hale, golf playing partner of President Harding, is being opposed for the Republican nomination on the ground that he is a bachelor and that a married man is better equipped for the solemn and sober duties of a national legislator at Washington.

This issue has been injected into the campaign by State Senator Hoard Davies of Yarmouth, who is opposing Mr. Hale at the primaries to be decided June 19. Mr. Davies and the campaign is of peculiar interest in Maine because not only Senator Hale but also Percival P. Baxter, governor of the state, is unmarried, and if the Davies arguments bear fruit, more than one of the state's leading office holders would have to suffer the consequences.

Bachelors Cite Penrose.

In its nationwide aspect, the campaign of the married man against the bachelor in politics is a revolutionary move. The friends of the bachelor are pointing to the fact that Boies Penrose, late leader in the senate, was a confirmed bachelor. Representative Burton of Ohio, former senator, is another shining example of the success of the bachelor in the upper chamber of congress. The bachelor defenders point to the fact that Grover Cleveland was elected to the presidency as a bachelor, but later took to himself a wife in the White House.

The bachelor versus married men also has acute angles of being particularly significant this time because of the fact that the women of the country are enjoying full suffrage both in the elections and the primaries.

Married Man Wiser?

Mr. Davies has made a strong play for the feminine vote in his race against Senator Hale, one of his campaign methods having been the issuance of a letter by him in which he dwells upon the fact that Davies is a family man and that by virtue of his understanding of family problems he is better entitled to the support of the voters than a man who has avoided these responsibilities. Davies himself is

PROBE CAUSE OF NAPERVILLE CHURCH BLAZE

Fire Marshal Finds No Evidence Against Klan.

Naperville, Ill., June 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—John G. Gamber, state fire marshal, today questioned a number of Naperville residents in an effort to determine responsibility for the fire which early Sunday morning destroyed the St. Peter and Paul Catholic church here.

While stating that persons questioned were not under suspicion in connection with the fire, which the fire marshal declares was of incendiary origin, Mr. Gamber said he believed some of those questioned will be of value.

Following a trip to Plainfield, Ill., where the Ku Klux Klan held an initiation last Saturday night, Mr. Gamber said there was no evidence to connect this organization or any other particular person or organization with the blaze.

"Firebug" Theory Advanced.

State's Attorney C. W. Reed said that if sufficient evidence was uncovered the case would be presented to the grand jury, which convenes at Wheaton next Monday. He said, however, that there was no evidence in his possession at present to warrant action.

Mr. Gamber today also was investigating a theory that a "firebug" might have been responsible for the blaze. According to the state fire marshal, there have been half a dozen fires in this community in the last two or three years, the origin of which has remained a mystery.

RICKENBACKER GOES TO OMAHA

Famous Flyer Hops Off From Chicago at 7 O'Clock in Round-the-Country Flight.

Chicago, June 9.—Eddie Rickenbacker reached here at 7 o'clock this morning in his round-the-country flight, and left an hour and a half later for Omaha, which he expected to reach at 1:30 p. m.

The complete journey, in which he expects to visit more than 60 of the country's larger cities, is planned to last at least eight weeks.

BONUS BILL PRESENTED.

Washington, June 9.—The soldiers' bonus bill was formally presented to the senate.

the author of a letter to the women of Maine in which he stresses that aspect of the situation and draws a clear cut issue between the relative qualifications of Senator Hale as a bachelor and himself as a bachelor.

"Hands that have been filled with glass beads and golden toys," Mr. Davies declared, "cannot grasp the things in life which are lasting and abiding; eyes accustomed to bright lights can see nothing but darkness when they look up at the stars."

Having thus cast an indirect aspersion upon bachelorhood, Candidate Davies, for fear someone would mistake his inferences, goes on to assert that he is a bachelor.

"The family is the unit of society. No man properly takes his place therein until he has entered into the marital relation."

Bomb or "Dud"?

Needless to say the new issue in the senatorial campaign has caused a great deal of excitement in Maine. Hilbert to the state has not considered itself handicapped by having its representation in the hands of a bachelor senator and a bachelor governor. Whether or not Mr. Davies' bomb will start a new trend of thought not only in this state but in the country at large, or will prove to be a harmless dud remains to be seen. The primaries of Monday will tell at least part of the story.

In the meantime all Maine is flooded with letters and plastered with placards urging the superior qualifications of a married man as a senatorial candidate and feminine tongues are clacking and attempting to decide whether a wife rocking placidly by the fire and darning stockings for a numerous younger generation is an invaluable advantage for the man who would make his way in Washington.

Hale Is Silent.

Senator Hale and Governor Baxter, who can urge no such qualifications for themselves, have thus far maintained a dignified silence. They have replied in no way to the attack upon their bachelorhood, nor have they urged the possibilities that a man without family ties and attachments might have more time for government business than the man with domestic problems and worries.

The voters of Maine sit and ponder.

STATE CLOSES CASE IN TRIAL OF 29 GREEKS

Defense Springs Surprise in Girl Witness.

Quincy, Ill., June 9.—With the closing of the state's case in the trial of the 29 Greeks charged with the murder of Sheriff Lashbrook of Schuyler county, on April 28, Thursday evening the defense opened with a witness this morning that proved a surprise to the prosecution.

Rose Ideus, who lives a short distance from the scene of the tragedy in Frederick, declared she heard a volley of shots, and immediately after heard Frank Utter, one of the men killed, exclaim:

"Get out of here; get out of here; you— I'm here to protect these fellows." The case then, after the prosecution rested, was taken up by James H. Wilkerson, assistant attorney-general, the witness replied that he did not remember, had forgotten, or did not know. Mr. Ruegge was called as a court witness after the state's case rested, but said she had been paid $10 to pay her expenses while here and expected the state to pay her transportation.

Shots From Three Points.

A. Klabanos, foreman of the Greek laborers, said three of his men were missing. He said he had been told of the ill-feeling against the Greeks and that it was because 60 Americans employed at Frederick at the same time had been laid off. He said there were others than Greeks on the platform and that shots came from three points of the depot, after which a crowd of men made their escape by running through the water which was to the west of the depot.

NOW THEY CHARGE HONEY BEES WITH RUNNING STILLS

Astoria, Ore., June 9.—Bee bootleggers that manufacture alcohol flavored with honey, are the latest violators of the Volstead act in Clatsop county, according to county agricultural agent McMinden.

He says that on account of the large number of stills which have been operated in the county, quantities of fermented mash have been dumped in isolated spots. The bees, in their search for material for honey-making, have discovered these mash piles and as a result the contents of some of the hives are highly flavored.

DUNN, HEAD OF BASEBALL CLUB, DIES

Owner of Cleveland Indians Succumbs to Long Illness.

Chicago, June 9.—(By The Associated Press.)—James C. Dunn, president and chief owner of the Cleveland American League baseball club, died here at 6:10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Dunn's death came after a long illness, which first became acute last February. Failing to respond to treatment given him here he went south and when he returned there was a noticeable improvement in his condition. It did not last, however, and he had been confined to his home here for some time.

The combination of complications caused the Cleveland club owner's death, which occurred at his home here. Mr. Dunn, besides being owner of the Cleveland baseball club, was a railroad contractor and widely known in this line of work.

Funeral at Marshalltown.

It was announced funeral services will be held at Marshalltown, Iowa, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 9.—Manager Tris Speaker, on receiving a message from Chicago, that Mr. Dunn had died this morning, announced that today's game between the Cleveland and Washington teams here, would not be played.

Known in Tri-Cities.

Mr. Dunn was well known in sport circles of the tri-cities due to his associations with Thomas Walsh, P. S. McCarthy and J. Reed and Dick R. Lane of Davenport in the ownership of the Cleveland American League baseball club. Many tri-city baseball fans met Mr. Dunn, when the Cleveland club won the world's championship two years ago.

It is expected that friends of Mr. Dunn will attend the funeral to be held in Marshalltown, Iowa, his home town.

STATE BALKED IN SMALL CASE

Can't Get Details of Disappearing Bank Records Before Jury; Witness "Forgets".

Waukegan, Ill., June 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prosecution failed again today to get before the jury trying Governor Len Small the details and circumstances surrounding the disappearance of books and records of the Grant Park Trust & Savings bank, of which his fellow defendant, Vernon S. Curtis, is president.

The state called Arthur W. Ruegge, assistant cashier of the bank, but his testimony added nothing to that given earlier in the week by Norman A. Griffing, the cashier. To most questions put to him by James H. Wilkerson, assistant attorney-general, the witness replied that he did not remember, had forgotten, or did not know. Mr. Ruegge was called as a court witness after the state's case rested, but said she had been paid $10 to pay her expenses while here and expected the state to pay her transportation.

G. N. EARNINGS SHOW INCREASE

Net Income Is $11.41 a Share Compared With $7.74 on Same Road in 1920.

St. Paul, Minn., June 9.—Net income of the Great Northern railroad from both operating and non-operating sources totalled $28,469,936 in 1921, after a deduction of taxes and fixed charges, according to the annual report of the road, made public today.

This was equivalent of $11.41 a share on the $249,477,150 capital stock outstanding. In 1920, the earnings were $7.74 a share.

LASKER PREDICTS SHIP BILL PASSAGE

Chicago, June 9.—A. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board, arrived here for a visit with his family at Glencoe, predicted passage of the pending ship subsidy bill by congress during the summer.

"If the dream of the St. Lawrence waterway comes true," he said, "as the administration hopes it will, it can be realized only with an American merchant marine."

RAIL BOARD NOT TO CUT PAY OF TELEGRAPHERS

Varied Conditions Require Weeks of Study.

Chicago, June 9.—Railway telegraphers will not be included in the third wage reduction of the railroad labor board, according to rumors today of the new contemplated slash from railroad payrolls.

The telegraphers number approximately 81,000. So many local conditions on various lines have to be considered that deliberation of an order affecting the telegraphers would necessarily consume weeks, it was said.

New wage cuts to follow the $110,000,000 already lopped off the pay checks of 500,000 maintenance of way employees, and 400,000 shop men, will affect 350,000 railroad clerks, signal men, stationary firemen, oilers and marine department employees, according to reports.

Clerks' Cut Smaller.

Chief among the groups are 220,000 clerks, 22,000 men in the signal department and 80,000 freight handlers and trucksters.

Although board members made no direct statement regarding the next cut, rumors were persistent in predicting a smaller reduction for the clerical forces than those affecting the shopmen. The reason for this was said to lie in the fact that the clerks did not receive in excess of $100 a month, while the other groups of employees when the wage scale was going up.

COAL STRIKE UP IN SENATE

Walsh Criticizes Hoover Agreements; Secretary Defends Plan to Restrain Prices.

Washington, June 9.—A statement from Secretary Hoover declaring "the essential thing about coal prices is that the runaway market must be stopped" was the latest development today in connection with agitation in the senate over the strike situation, and the plan adopted by the secretary for holding prices at a fair level during the tie-up of the industry.

Issued after the assertion by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, on the senate floor yesterday that the public patience was exhausted by coal operators lacking advantages of agreements with Mr. Hoover to boost their prices to retailers, the secretary's statement declared "that some of the senators have been misinformed by misleading statements from a small group of retailers who object strenuously to any attempt to restrain prices."

The fact is, Mr. Hoover contended, that prices have receded from the level reached on May 15, and the public has been protected from a repetition of 1920 conditions.

BONUS BILL IS BEFORE SENATE

Washington, June 9.—The soldiers' bonus bill was on the senate calendar today, but without any definite time fixed for its consideration. Chairman McCumber of the finance committee reported the measure last night by unanimous consent after a first effort to present it under a consent agreement had failed.

Senator McCumber desires to have the senate consider the bill in the near future, but some leaders on the Republican side oppose his plans, believing it unwise to displace the tariff bill for a measure which is certain to lead to a long and, perhaps, bitter fight.

DEDICATES PRINCETON MONUMENT

Calls Trenton Campaign Greatest in Military History.

Princeton, June 9.—President Harding reached here today at 1 p. m. to dedicate the Princeton battle monument, after traveling across country by motor from Somerville, N. J., with his party.

Behind a squadron of cavalry and over a road flanked by artillery delivering the 21-gun presidential salute, the President taken directly to the monument speaking stand.

Bayard Stockton, III, a descendant of a Declaration of Independence signer, pulled away a great flag which draped the MacMonnies sculpture commemorating George Washington's exploits in leading the Continental army in the Princeton-Trenton campaign against the British. There were other brief preliminaries in the dedication ceremony.

Princeton, N. J., June 9.—The brilliancy of General Washington's genius in action and the devotion of his followers of the Continental army under great privations were extolled by President Harding today in an address at the dedication of the battle monument at Princeton. The memorial was fitting to the heroes and heroism of that day, he declared, adding that "We bring and lay at its foot the laurel wreaths which gratitude and patriotic sentiment will always dedicate to those who have borne the heat and burden of the conflict."

The president spoke as follows:

"My fellow Americans:
"We have come here to say the formal words of dedication and consecrate ourselves to the cause in granite and marble. But we stand, to say those words, in the presence of another monument, which is the true memorial to the events we celebrate. The real monument to the achievement of Washington's patriots before a monument in granite and marble. It rears itself in the institutions of liberty and representative government, now big in the vision of all mankind.

"Soul of Genius."

"In the presence of such a monument, we can do no better than dedicate ourselves to the cause in which at this place the soul of genius and the spirit of sacrifice shone forth with steadfast resistance. On no other battle ground, in presence of no other memorial of heroism, could we find more inspiring illumination for our hopes, our anticipations, our confidence.
"Here the genius of General Washington reached the height of its brilliancy in action. Here his followers wrote their highest testimony of valor. Here liberty took shape in the struggle through privation and unbelievable exertion, to gain the heights. The crimsoned prints of numbed and bleeding feet marked the route a pathway to eternal glory. Thither they

MT. EVEREST RECORD BROKEN

London, June 9.—The Times announces that some members of the Mount Everest party have reached the highest altitude ever attained on earth by man. It said:
"Three members of the Everest expedition, Mallory, Somervell and Norton, on May 21, reached an altitude of 28,800 feet, the highest ever reached by man, and just 2,200 below the summit."

The previous world record was 24,553 feet made by the Duke of Abruzzi in 1910.

GAME WARDEN IN MAINE ARRESTS 'ADAM AND EVE'

Houlton, Me., June 9.—Carl A. Sutter and his wife, who as the "modern Adam and Eve," have been living the "simple life" in the woods of northern Maine for some weeks, have been arrested by game wardens, charged with violating the state game laws.

According to the wardens, Sutter and his wife killed deer and partridge in the closed season. They will be arraigned in municipal court here today.
"Adam and Eve" undertook to spend six weeks in the wilds without civilized clothing, weapons or utensils. They claimed to have killed a deer in a pitfall trap set by "Adam" and, perhaps, bitter fight.
